Sue Martin was not three years old when she began life at her first children's home: a home that could at best be described as cold and regimented; at worst, torturous and terrifying. When her mother abandoned her to the protection of the home, Sue was soon to discover that behind the welcoming doors of this reputedly kind-hearted organisation lay a world steeped in lies, cover-ups, victimisation and abuse.

If one wants to cross Borith Lake, there's no way to avoid taking this terrifying bridge. The Hussaini Hanging Bridge is beyond rickety, and it's filled with large gaps. To increase the fear factor, walking on the bridge, with or without the high winds that often whip up, can cause the bridge to move wildly about.
